Plymouth 10 June 1828

My Lord

Your Lordships Letter of the 4th June has been forwarded to me here amidst the bustle of Election Matters, which will I trust plead my sufficient excuse with Your Lordship for declining to say more in reply to it at present than that it well afford me much pleasure if I should find (on my return to Town) the statements in the Memorial you inform me you are about to lay before H.R.H. the Lord High Admiral well enable me consistently with my Duty, to give my humble [1] advice to H.R.H. in accordance with the wishes of your Lordship whom I remember so distinguished an officer of our naval service.

I have the honor to be
My Lord
Your Lordship's
Very obedient humble servant

Rockburn

The Lord Cochrance
