Dear Jackson

the King has invited all the Knights of the Bath to dine with him on the twelfth, which is the anniversary of the affair of Bargue Roads, as well as that of Jamburs installation! If nothing shall be done on that day, I shall not obtain justice during the life of William the 4.

Indeed, I understand that every effort has been made by the Duke of Cumberland and others to influence the King to my prejudice. God knows whether they have beer tampering with Mr Butt, in order to have protests for further injustice towards me, or if he in truth is only Mad; but he has lately written some extraordinary letters to me asking money [1] and threatening vengeance of I did not comply with his requests. He is an unfortunate creature and has been cruelly headed by that greatest of all scoundrels Mr Johanson.

I hope you will be able to give the public a spicy article, if need be; for it will be quite useless to spare those who have pertaded evidence, forged charts or caused the confiding husband of an amiable wife to cut his threat from shame & dismay.

My Essgene, you will be glad to learn promises to do well.

Believe me
Dear Jackson
most sincerely
Cochrane
