without an awning to prevent the crew from being perpetually wet during a winters voyage and for proceeding or attempting to proceed to Sea not only without medical aid or medicines of any description, but without bandages, or even the slightest means for the prevention of disease, or for the preservation of the lives of the crew in case of Sickness or accident. For leaving or suffering to be left, Gunpowder in Cartridges, and in open barrels beneath the cabin floor covered by a thin board and bit of canvass. For not having demanded or obtained glass or any covering to admit light and exclude the rain wind, and sparks of fire coming from the contiguous wooden galley ~~or rain from~~ into the cabin of the said Admiral Lord Cochrane wherein ~~which~~ the powder Magazine is placed.

Eleventh charge. For not having demanded from the naval arsenal any stores or conveniences usually supplied in the embarkation of an officer of the Grade of admiral; neither a boat fit to embark in, nor a plank or nail to make a crib; nor canvas to make a cot, or hammock; nor any additional provisions of whatever description; nor even a supply of wood for cooking, nor water for the use of the admiral and his suite; for having quitted the arsenal with the said Brig of War [1] Proserpine without a common convenience for the use of the officers such as decency absolutely requires.

Twelfth Charge, Generally. For having by neglect of his personal duties as Commander, and by his contempt and disobedience of orders, delayed the service; and given evil example to the officers and men under his command and Lastly, for endeavouring to bring the chief admiral of Greece into contempt and expose him to derision by wantonly causing him and those who accompany him to suffer and Submit to privations and hardships unknown even in the transportation of convicts, and not occasioned by the actual circumstances of Greece

Given on board of the Greek.
national Brig of War Proserpine this the thirteenth day of December 1828
Cochrane
first admiral of Greece and commander in chief of the naval forces of Greece etc