Culverdon House

Turnbridge Well 10 Sept 1840

Dear Jackson

I am much gratified by the kind feelings expressed in your letter; and I am quite satisfied that, if any man can show the injustice that has been done to me your talent, and long acquaintance with all my affairs point you out as that individual. If by such statement I shall obtain favor from conviction it will indeed be most gratifying -- but to petition or memorial the King, whilst his present ministers continue in office, would be to debase myself in my own estimation, and I think is that of every man of sense and feeling. [1]

I shall endeavour to be in town on Tuesday, perhaps Monday. Meanwhile do you take a smy quiet lodging and leave your address at N 118.

You will be glad to learn that Lady Cochrane is now almost quite restored to health and that all the children are well.

Believe me Dear Jackson

ever most sincerely yours

Cochrane

P.S. There is a report that the Coachman Crane has been transported- that would be worth finding out. My Brother has also learnt something [2]
